Jointly for our common future

SAGITTARIUS Project – “Launching (g)local level heritage entrepreneurship: strategies and tools to unite forces, safeguard the place, mobilize cultural values, deliver the experience”. It was launched in late September 2011, during a conference held in Rhodes – Greece. Its implementation period lasts three years (from 2011 to 2014), and is funded by the South East Europe Transnational Cooperation Programme.

The leader of the SAGITTARIUS Project is the Aegean University of Athens, Greece, and it is implemented through 20 institutions in eight countries (Greece, Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Slovenia, Hungary, Croatia and Republic of Moldova).

- Greece
- Italy
- Bulgaria
- Romania
- Rep. Moldova
- Croatia
- Hungary
- Slovenia

Romania has two institutions involved in this project: the Institute of National Economy from the Romanian Academy, together with a partner from a non-EU Member State – the District Council of Soroca, Rep. Moldova (10% partner) and the National Institute for Research and Development of Tourism, with a strategic partner, initially the Ministry of Regional Development and Tourism, in present the Romanian Authority National in Tourism.

SAGITTARIUS advances cultural consumption by communicating cultural values: from natural monuments and ecosystems to sites and collections, from the arts to traditions and handicrafts. Thus, values of tangible/intangible, movable/immovable and spiritual heritage assets become catalysts for regeneration and development by being revealed and communicated. Given the diversity and complexity of heritage, the use of cultural values for development is feasible, only if multilateral interactions are understood and reflected in policy and delivery.

The expected results are the following:

- ❖ Establishing a network of national and transnational collaboration with the members of the civil society and the relevant stakeholders in the promotion of cultural heritage and valuing the tourism potential;
- ❖ Stimulating the entrepreneurial activity in the cultural tourism and developing international tours in the South Eastern Europe;
- ❖ Developing new methodologies for specific players on the market of cultural tourism, in order to promote and support the development of local tourism, and the valorisation through tourism of the potential of the cultural heritage;
- ❖ Identify and implement the best practices for exploiting the heritage of the project partners.
